We believe that for the overall development of a child, it is important to include sports in their daily activities. We reinforce the government sports policy that says “sports and physical education are essential components of human resource development, helping to promote good health, comradeship and a spirit of friendly competition, which in turn has a positive impact on the overall development of personality of the youth”. The early development of children and youth and the skills learned during play, physical education and sport contribute to the holistic development of young sportsmen.

Through participation in sport and physical education, young sportsmen will learn about the importance of key values such as:

- Honesty
- Teamwork
- Fair play
- Respect for themselves and others, and
- Adherence to rules.

Our main as where a forum for young sportsmen will be to teach them how to deal with competition and how to cope up with both winning and losing. These learning aspects will highlight the impact of physical education and sports on a child's social and moral development in addition to physical skills and abilities.
